

INDEX FOR ADVERTISERS ON FOURTH PAGE.

Advertisements in this column charged ten cents per word, words and figures proportionately. Extra space, extra rates. Copy for these columns to be typewritten, or else typed or ruled, and no illustrations or cuts will be admitted in these columns.

ADVERTISEMENTS—When property is sold, the smallest advertisement is most at once by the very reason that it is not worth the trouble to have it put up as valuable for this purpose as if it had been spread over the whole page.

WANTED.

WANTED—The 3d and 3d volumes of Hannibal's History of the Address Book, W. H. Moore, 1878, Boston office, $1.00 each.

WANTED—Printings of all kinds, from the smallest card to the largest poster, books, etc., executed at the lowest prices, and in every style. The Constitution office. Same address.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—A fine three gallon Cow, with a young calf with guarantees of health, $100. March 28.

WANT POTATOES FOR HEDGER.—New Jersey Farms, the earliest in best, and the only variety that will sell in the North, $1.50 per bushel. There are only a few left. Atlanta, Ga., March 29.

TO SELL OR RENT.—An elegant residence in Athens, Georgia, which has been recently built with every convenience. It is a fine, spacious situation, has a farm of thirty-two acres attached, with a nice kitchen, a dining room, parlor, etc. Price, $1,500.00. To be let to Mr. M. A. Lipcomb, Atlanta, Ga., to John C. Rutherford, Macon, Ga., March 29.

A FEW COPIES of the New Constitution, in a sample form, for sale at this office. Five cents.

LOST AND FOUND.

LOST—Money by not having your Binding Books, etc., executed at The Constitution office. Blank Books must be paid to order. Who wants them? $100.00...etc.

FOUND—Out that all kinds of Job Printing can be had easily, cheaply and quickly executed at The Constitution Job Office. $1.00...etc.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WHITE PINE SASH, DOORS, BLINDS, BARNETT'S Hardware, Paint and Window Glass. 35 Decatur Street, W. J. Jenkins & Co., 100 feet...etc.

SASH, DOORS, BLINDS, LOCKS, HINGES, GLASS, etc., now at any house in Georgia. W. H. Moore, 1878, Boston office, $1.00...etc.

The Constitution.

ATLANTA, SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 30, 1878.

THE Washington Post says the old salt, Col. Richard W. Thompson, will retire from the navy department on the first day of next July, to be succeeded by the Hon. Albert G. Porter.

Georgia has just acquired another citizen in Gen. Robert H. Chilton. President Hayes made him one on Wednesday of this week by signing the house bill to remove his political disabilities.

By the terms of the bill now pending in congress to prevent the introduction of contagious diseases, the quarantine regulations of a state are not disturbed, and the state officials are made agents of the national quarantine system.

Three idiots of the house committee on post offices and post roads voted against striking out the section to prohibit the distribution of newspapers otherwise than through the mails. The three were not numerous enough to retain the obnoxious section.

There is no use of trying to convince the paragraphers' association of two things: 1. That Senator Lamar did not and could not produce the sentiment that Col. A. R. Lamar sent to Augusta on St. Patrick's day. 2. That the troubles of Mr. Whetstone and Miss Blair occurred in Nashville, and not in Atlanta.

If the bill to give the proceeds of the public lands to the state in aid of public education becomes a law, Georgia will get about $80,000; North Carolina, about $65,000; South Carolina, $100,000; Alabama, $65,000, and Florida, $120,000. These would be the approximate amounts for the first ten years on the basis of illiteracy.

The terms of twenty-five senators expire on the 4th of March next—seventeen republicans and eight democrats. Fifty-one senators hold over, of whom twenty-eight are democrats, twenty-two republicans and David Davis. The indications now are the senate will be composed after the 4th day of March of forty-four democrats, thirty-one republicans and one independent, giving the former a majority of twelve, and only seven short of a two-thirds majority.

The people of the upper Tennessee are anxiously looking for the return of the tiny ship that left them three years ago for a trip to the sea. Eighty thousand of them went on the excursion to the gulf of Mexico; and if the theory be true that they always return to the exact locality in which they passed the embryonic stages of their growth, the people of the Tennessee valley will soon be enjoying genuine white sand. The Knoxville Tribune gravely asks the fishermen to be watchful, and to verify their luck by transmitting perfect specimens of the first "catch" of the fish to the editor. His doubtless proposes to consider the rest of the year as a part of lent.

THE PACIFIC RAILROAD DEBATES.

A struggle is going on in congress to compel the Pacific railroads to appropriate an adequate part of their large earnings to a sinking fund for the redemption of the bonds issued by the government for their benefit. These bonds mature between 1895 and 1900, together with the first-magnitude bonds of the railroad companies—making the class of the government for the principal and unpaid interest a very doubtful debt. The bonds issued to the Union Pacific are $27,236,512, and these with the accumulation of thirty years' interest at 6 per cent, will amount to $76,263,235.

The loan to the Central Pacific is $27,555,630, with the interest will amount in thirty years to $77,905,804. When the government bonds loaned to these two roads fall due, thirty years from the date of their issue, the entire debt will be $154,258,039. This will be decreased by the 5 per cent. on their net earnings, and one-half the charges for government service, which the roads are now required to pay into a sinking fund. These payments in the case of the Union Pacific will amount in thirty years to about $20,000,000, and in the case of the Central Pacific to $15,000,000; and deducted from the aggregate principal and interest above stated, would leave $119,248,879.

The companies claim the right under the terms of their loosely drawn and corruptly procured bargain, to divide their profits among their stockholders without making any special provisions for the repeal will render robbery less profitable, and tend to encourage honest mercantile endeavor. We hope the whole system will be swept away, and there is no better way to accomplish this than to pass the bill that Senator Christianity submitted to the senate on Wednesday.

THE CASE OF DEAN VS. FIELD.

We have already stated the questions involved in the contested election case from the third district of Massachusetts. They were chiefly law questions, and it is certainly not necessary to recapitulate them.

The case was considered to some extent without party bias, and it will doubtless live in the history of the state as one of the most celebrated that ever came before congress. Mr. Field was the sitting member, and a republican, Mr. Dean, the contestant, is a democrat. The vote in the district was so close that different counts changed the result. The case was reported from the committee of elections in February, a majority and a minority report coming in. Messrs. Candler and Clarkson N. Potter and the responsible members of the committee, signed the minority report. It was shown that other democrats would follow the lead of Messrs. Candler and Potter. It was also known that Ben Butler would vote against Mr. Field. The result was therefore considered doubtful, and neither side was anxious to secure action. But on Wednesday a vote had to be taken; it was a tie. Every member of the house—292 in number—voted or was paired, except Mr. Freeman of Philadelphia, who is detained in his home by sickness. Butler was the only republican that voted against Mr. Field, although eleven democrats voted against Mr. Dean. Messrs. Candler and Harridge were two of the eleven, and Mr. James T. Jones of Alabama voted with them. The matter then went over to Thursday, when Mr. Jones broke the tie and made Mr. Dean a congressman by changing his vote. The interest was intense throughout the contest. A messenger was sent to Philadelphia after Mr. Freeman, and every effort used to have a full vote. And it was unprecedently full. Even on the vote of the electoral commission in the last contest there were thirteen members absent and unaccounted for. In this case every vote was accounted for.

MR. TILDEN'S INCOME TAX.

Judge Blatchford's decision in the income tax suit of the United States against Samuel J. Tilden, does not reach the merits of the action. The United States sued Mr. Tilden for a balance claimed to be due under the income tax law, but had been assessed under the income tax, and had paid the assessment. The United States replied that, even admitting this, they had still the right to sue for a further sum that they claimed should have been paid. Mr. Tilden's counsel demurred to this right, and the point of law was argued before Judge Blatchford, who decided that the plaintiffs have the right to sue for the sum claimed.

There are twelve counts in the complaint. Setting aside the first count, which called for a tax of $3,000 on an income of $100,000 for the year 1861, and which was set aside by the court, there are eleven other counts. These counts claimed for the government taxes for the years on the income and for the amounts below received.

For 1862 on $100,000 at 5 per cent. $6,515.00
For 1863 on $100,000 at 5 per cent. 6,250.00
For 1864 on $100,000 at 10 per cent. 16,000.00
For 1865 on $35,000 at 10 per cent. 33,000.00
For 1866 on $100,000 at 10 per cent. 10,000.00
For 1867 on $10,000 at 5 per cent. 5,000.00
For 1868 on $12,000 at 5 per cent. 6,000.00
For 1869 on $71,000 at 5 per cent. 6,650.00
For 1870 on $55,500 at 25 per cent. 13,875.00
For 1871 on $100,000 at 2½ per cent. 2,000.00
Total... $46,650.00
$18,612.50

It will thus be seen that the tax for which the government sues is $138,142, and that the income on which it is claimed to be due is $2,063,600, covering a period of ten years.

But it is not probable that the questions of fact involved in this great political law suit will be tried very soon. The decision of Judge Blatchford must first go to the supreme court of the United States. If that court affirms it, not only Mr. Tilden, but a host of other men in this country—even in Georgia—will be in fair positions to pay back taxes on the reopening of their accounts with the government. Mr. Tilden was assessed by the officers of the government, and paid the assessments. In this respect he differed from most of his persecutors who, belonging to the dominant party, managed to escape all assessment whatsoever.

The Hon. Randall L. Gibson is the grandson of the clergymen Randall Gibson, who founded the first church and endowed the first college in Mississippi.

Building and loan associations are popular in Cincinnati, and about $65,000 a week is paid into them, or in round numbers three and a third millions of dollars a year, by about thirty thousand persons.

Capt. Shaw, the chief of the London fire brigade, is a tall, military-looking man; he is an Irishman and an ex-officer of militia. He is a splendid whip, and his coach and four is the admiration of all beholders. He is a great waltzer, and ladies wish fires to light for him. He is tall and angular.

A member of the cabinet recently informed the Washington correspondent that he had two sons. They were never bank presidents and left this country enjoying the respect of the community in which they lived.—New Orleans Picayune.

Building and loan associations are popular in Cincinnati, and about $65,000 a week is paid into them, or in round numbers three and a third millions of dollars a year, by about thirty thousand persons.

Capt. Shaw, the chief of the London fire brigade, is a tall, military-looking man; he is an Irishman and an ex-officer of militia. He is a great waltzer, and ladies wish fires to light for him. He is tall and angular.

A member of the cabinet recently informed the Washington correspondent that he had two sons. They were never bank presidents and left this country enjoying the respect of the community in which they lived.—New Orleans Picayune.

Building and loan associations are popular in Cincinnati, and about $65,000 a week is paid into them, or in round numbers three and a third millions of dollars a year, by about thirty thousand persons.

Capt. Shaw, the chief of the London fire brigade, is a tall, military-looking man; he is an Irishman and an ex-officer of militia. He is a great waltzer, and ladies wish fires to light for him. He is tall and angular.

A member of the cabinet recently informed the Washington correspondent that he had two sons. They were never bank presidents and left this country enjoying the respect of the community in which they lived.—New Orleans Picayune.

Building and loan associations are popular in Cincinnati, and about $65,000 a week is paid into them, or in round numbers three and a third millions of dollars a year, by about thirty thousand persons.

Capt. Shaw, the chief of the London fire brigade, is a tall, military-looking man; he is an Irishman and an ex-officer of militia. He is a great waltzer, and ladies wish fires to light for him. He is tall and angular.

A member of the cabinet recently informed the Washington correspondent that he had two sons. They were never bank presidents and left this country enjoying the respect of the community in which they lived.—New Orleans Picayune.

Building and loan associations are popular in Cincinnati, and about $65,000 a week is paid into them, or in round numbers three and a third millions of dollars a year, by about thirty thousand persons.

Capt. Shaw, the chief of the London fire brigade, is a tall, military-looking man; he is an Irishman and an ex-officer of militia. He is a great waltzer, and ladies wish fires to light for him. He is tall and angular.

A member of the cabinet recently informed the Washington correspondent that he had two sons. They were never bank presidents and left this country enjoying the respect of the community in which they lived.—New Orleans Picayune.

Building and loan associations are popular in Cincinnati, and about $65,000 a week is paid into them, or in round numbers three and a third millions of dollars a year, by about thirty thousand persons.

Capt. Shaw, the chief of the London fire brigade, is a tall, military-looking man; he is an Irishman and an ex-officer of militia. He is a great waltzer, and ladies wish fires to light for him. He is tall and angular.

A member of the cabinet recently informed the Washington correspondent that he had two sons. They were never bank presidents and left this country enjoying the respect of the community in which they lived.—New Orleans Picayune.

Building and loan associations are popular in Cincinnati, and about $65,000 a week is paid into them, or in round numbers three and a third millions of dollars a year, by about thirty thousand persons.

Capt. Shaw, the chief of the London fire brigade, is a tall, military-looking man; he is an Irishman and an ex-officer of militia. He is a great waltzer, and ladies wish fires to light for him. He is tall and angular.

A member of the cabinet recently informed the Washington correspondent that he had two sons. They were never bank presidents and left this country enjoying the respect of the community in which they lived.—New Orleans Picayune.

Building and loan associations are popular in Cincinnati, and about $65,000 a week is paid into them, or in round numbers three and a third millions of dollars a year, by about thirty thousand persons.

Capt. Shaw, the chief of the London fire brigade, is a tall, military-looking man; he is an Irishman and an ex-officer of militia. He is a great waltzer, and ladies wish fires to light for him. He is tall and angular.

A member of the cabinet recently informed the Washington correspondent that he had two sons. They were never bank presidents and left this country enjoying the respect of the community in which they lived.—New Orleans Picayune.

Building and loan associations are popular in Cincinnati, and about $65,000 a week is paid into them, or in round numbers three and a third millions of dollars a year, by about thirty thousand persons.

Capt. Shaw, the chief of the London fire brigade, is a tall, military-looking man; he is an Irishman and an ex-officer of militia. He is a great waltzer, and ladies wish fires to light for him. He is tall and angular.

A member of the cabinet recently informed the Washington correspondent that he had two sons. They were never bank presidents and left this country enjoying the respect of the community in which they lived.—New Orleans Picayune.

Building and loan associations are popular in Cincinnati, and about $65,000 a week is paid into them, or in round numbers three and a third millions of dollars a year, by about thirty thousand persons.

Capt. Shaw, the chief of the London fire brigade, is a tall, military-looking man; he is an Irishman and an ex-officer of militia. He is a great waltzer, and ladies wish fires to light for him. He is tall and angular.

A member of the cabinet recently informed the Washington correspondent that he had two sons. They were never bank presidents and left this country enjoying the respect of the community in which they lived.—New Orleans Picayune.

Building and loan associations are popular in Cincinnati, and about $65,000 a week is paid into them, or in round numbers three and a third millions of dollars a year, by about thirty thousand persons.

Capt. Shaw, the chief of the London fire brigade, is a tall, military-looking man; he is an Irishman and an ex-officer of militia. He is a great waltzer, and ladies wish fires to light for him. He is tall and angular.

A member of the cabinet recently informed the Washington correspondent that he had two sons. They were never bank presidents and left this country enjoying the respect of the community in which they lived.—New Orleans Picayune.

Building and loan associations are popular in Cincinnati, and about $65,000 a week is paid into them, or in round numbers three and a third millions of dollars a year, by about thirty thousand persons.

Capt. Shaw, the chief of the London fire brigade, is a tall, military-looking man; he is an Irishman and an ex-officer of militia. He is a great waltzer, and ladies wish fires to light for him. He is tall and angular.

A member of the cabinet recently informed the Washington correspondent that he had two sons. They were never bank presidents and left this country enjoying the respect of the community in which they lived.—New Orleans Picayune.

Building and loan associations are popular in Cincinnati, and about $65,000 a week is paid into them, or in round numbers three and a third millions of dollars a year, by about thirty thousand persons.

Capt. Shaw, the chief of the London fire brigade, is a tall, military-looking man; he is an Irishman and an ex-officer of militia. He is a great waltzer, and ladies wish fires to light for him. He is tall and angular.

A member of the cabinet recently informed the Washington correspondent that he had two sons. They were never bank presidents and left this country enjoying the respect of the community in which they lived.—New Orleans Picayune.

Building and loan associations are popular in Cincinnati, and about $65,000 a week is paid into them, or in round numbers three and a third millions of dollars a year, by about thirty thousand persons.

Capt. Shaw, the chief of the London fire brigade, is a tall, military-looking man; he is an Irishman and an ex-officer of militia. He is a great waltzer, and ladies wish fires to light for him. He is tall and angular.

A member of the cabinet recently informed the Washington correspondent that he had two sons. They were never bank presidents and left this country enjoying the respect of the community in which they lived.—New Orleans Picayune.

Building and loan associations are popular in Cincinnati, and about $65,000 a week is paid into them, or in round numbers three and a third millions of dollars a year, by about thirty thousand persons.

Capt. Shaw, the chief of the London fire brigade, is a tall, military-looking man; he is an Irishman and an ex-officer of militia. He is a great waltzer, and ladies wish fires to light for him. He is tall and angular.

The Constitution.BOUNDABOUT IN GEORGIA.

—McEvoy's Hibernicon is billed for April 6th, at the Savannah theatre.

—Strawberries bring seventy-five cents per box in the Savannah market. Green peas twenty-five cents a quart.

—The water supply of the city of A'ban is getting low. Many of the cisterns are reported as having given out.

—The Albany News anticipates a large attendance at their spring fair.

—The Dawson Journal reports the burning of the residence of Captain T. H. Pickett, situated near the male college.

—W. D. M. Mason, has taken charge of the editorial department of the Jeppen Sentinel.

—The court house at Abbeville, Wilcox county, with a large majority of the records and papers, have been destroyed by fire.

—Thirty-eight thousand four hundred and seventy-five acres of wild lands are advertised for sale in Dooly county, for tax.

—The Hawkinsville dispatch says: Quite a number of fine white shade had been caught from the Ocmulgee river at this point this season.

—The College Bell, with Miss S. L. Brown as editor, is being issued at Madison.

—The Chattanooga Dispatch says: The coal mines that employ convict labor are puzzled to furnish employment during the warm weather. The Dade mines have about three hundred convicts, and the probabilities are that not more than 150 of them will be profitably employed between the months of April and November.

—A destructive fire occurred some ten miles from Macon on Wednesday, occasioning quite a loss of fencing out houses, etc.

—On Thursday morning Macon was visited by quite a wind, which prostrated fences and a number of trees.

—Henry F. Andrews retires from the Washington Gazette.

—The dwelling house of Harvey Lynch, of Harris county, was burned last Monday.

—The Elberton Gazette says "nearly the whole of Elbert county was on fire last Sunday."

—The prisoners in LaGrange jail made a fruitless effort to escape Saturday night.

—The Elberton Gazette says: "We already note a demand in Elberton for every class of mechanics, especially carpenters. This demand will be constantly on the increase for the next twelve months or more. Elberton has not a single unoccupied business house on the public square, but one off the square. The number of business houses will probably be doubled next winter, making work for any number of carpenters and masons.

—Columbus had a $900 fire Wednesday night. The LaGrange Reporter says: During the hurricane of Sunday, the 10th inst., the wind cut up a queer caper in Dr. H. T. Head's house. A small table was standing in the hall, which extended through the house, with a bucket and a basin, both containing water. The wind blew this table several feet along the floor, without overturning it, or spilling any water out of the vessel.

—The Augusta Chronicle says: Twenty-five shares of Georgia railroad stock were sold Thursday at 74. We understand that the parties who purchased 300 shares Tuesday, bought another lot yesterday. Thursday, $60,000 of Georgia railroad 6 per cent bonds were sold at 95 cents on the dollar, making $400,000 in all sold so far, and leaving $100,000 to be disposed of. In the report published Thursday of the purchase of $20,000 of these bonds by a Philadelphia capitalist, it was stated that they were bought at 75, and that the price would be advanced to 76 on the 1st of April. The figures should have been 95 and 96.

—The Gainesville Eagle, speaking of the Air-Line railroad, says: Numerous villages have sprung up along its course, by means of which a scattered population is advancing with equal progress. With the extension of the Northeastern railroad (now completed) from Athens to Belton, on the Air-Line, through Habersham and Union counties, and connecting with Gwinnettville and the completion of the North Georgia road, from Marietta, Ga., to Murphy, N.C., there will evidently be a rapid influx of population and capital to this desirable region.

—In one of the papers of Atlanta, the Gainesville Eagle says: The Constitution in enumerating the list of daily newspapers that have died in Atlanta since the war fails to mention the National American which our old friend J. S. Peterson says died "for the want of just pay."

—In speaking of the removal of obstructions from the Ocmulgee river, the Hawkinsville Dispatch says: The steamer Clyde, Capt. John L. Day, with Mr. C. Frazer, engineer in charge, and a portion of the force employed in removing obstructions from the Ocmulgee river, arrived in Hawkinsville on Friday last. Work was commenced at the junction of the Ocmulgee and Ocmulgee rivers, about two hundred miles below this point, some months since, and has been vigorously prosecuted under the direction of Col. Probst up to the present time. The most important obstructions to navigation between Hawkinsville and the Altamaha river have been removed, and the Ocmulgee river is now in pretty fair condition for rafting timber and navigating steamers. The people along the river below this point are anxious that it should be entirely cleared of all obstructions, as it is at present the commercial portion of the river; and they are desirous that the work be done as soon as practicable. Mr. C. Frazer, engineer in charge, will require some time, and several trips will have to be made by the force engaged on the river, to place it in as good condition as it should be. He is now at this place, awaiting orders from Col. Probst, whose arrival is expected in a day or two.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Savannah News says: A pack of foxes, which have infested the woods and pointers—belonging to Mr. Fred. De Harry, reached this city en route from his winter residence at Enterprise, Florida, to the north. They are domiciled at Feely's Palaski house stables, and have been inspected by a number of our citizens who admire fine dogs.

—The Columnist Encourages says: The Eagle Phoenix factor, Fred. De Harry, reached this city en

